Compost Turner

Dear Friends,

We did it. We survived another winter! We worked hard for this one. There was snow. Ice. It came early and overstayed its welcome. If my grandma were here right now, she'd say, "Uffda." And I'd nod in agreement.

Well, most of that weather is behind us. We're at a tricky point where we can't get anything planted yet, but we all want to get outside. That's why I encourage you to get your compost on! Whether you choose an indoor or outdoor system, here are a few of the things that you do for Mother Earth by composting: reduce what you send to landfills (and the pollution created by transporting it), create free, non-toxic fertilizer for your garden, and improve the quality of your soil.

So there you have it, folks, it's time to get your compost on!

See you soon!
Maria

NatureMill electronic composter, because it composts up to 120 lbs. per month and it works year-round! The NatureMill PRO XE composts all food waste (including meat!), and can even compost pet waste when kept outdoors.

Here's how it works: Items remain in the upper chamber under optimal composting conditions: mixing, air flow, heat, and moisture. The energy released destroys odors, pathogens, and seed germination. It is later transferred through a trap door to the lower cure tray, where it continues to compost while you add fresh items to the upper chamber. It's important to have a good supply of sawdust on hand in order to avoid odors in your bin and to improve the quality of your compost. The NatureMill PRO XE has been improved with a stronger motor, more powerful filter, heavy duty mode, and it still comes with a lifetime filter and 3 year warranty! Available in a variety of colors to complement any design.

Exclusive Offer: Now through Earth Day, purchase a NatureMill PRO XE for $399 from Green Home Experts and receive a complimentary 10 lb. box of sawdust pellets!
