Hot Water Heater
Blankets
$39.99

Dear Friends,

January is a time of hope for all of us. In just ten short days, our country will celebrate the inauguration of a new president who promises to create green collar jobs, to invest in alternative energy, and to address our country's--and our planet's--serious environmental concerns.

This is also a time of hope for those who have made New Year's resolutions. For 2009, I encourage you to think green and come up with a green resolution. My resolution is to eat more locally by supplementing my CSA box with more vegetables grown in my garden. If you have a green resolution, please share it with us on our newly-revamped GreenBlog.

Yours,

Maria Onesto Moran

Tax Incentives for Residential Energy Efficiency

Do you want to make your home more energy efficient? Especially during these difficult economic times, energy-efficient improvements are timely, because they will

Here's an easy way to save as much as 5% on your monthly heating bills: wrap your hot water heater in our Max Reflect barrier blanket!

By insulating your hot water heater, you are reflecting energy back into the appliance that would otherwise be lost. This nifty blanket pays for itself in 10 months!

reduce your impact on the environment and on your wallet.

Perhaps some incentives will give you a boost in starting your project? Here is some helpful information about the great tax incentives for residential energy efficiency improvements:

→ Now Taking NatureMill Orders

This Spring we are proud to introduce the NatureMill composting system, an amazing indoor/outdoor composter that digests your food in just weeks!

How it works: Deposit food waste items at any time, on any day. Add as much as 120 lbs per month. Items remain in the upper chamber, with "hot composting" conditions: mixing, air flow, heat, and moisture. The energy released destroys odors, pathogens, and seed germination. The compost is later transferred through a trap door to the lower cure tray chamber, where it continues to compost while you add fresh waste items to the upper chamber.

The Pet Friendly model is the solution that many pet owners have been waiting for. It safely and hygienically digests pet waste and creates compost for your garden! Ideal for up to 2 large dogs, or 4 cats, rabbits, hamsters, or other small animals; it also accepts kitchen scraps!

NatureMill Plus: $299 NatureMill Pet Friendly: $399

→ Enviro-Log Fire Logs

Enviro-Log utilizes recycled food-grade waxed containers used to transport perishable foods. The wax used in the containers is an FDA-approved edible wax of the highest quality. The wax is inherently clean and sets Enviro-Log Firelogs apart from other manufactured firelogs that use petroleum-based binders.

Great for your home's fireplace, chimineas, wood stoves, and camping! Enviro-Log burns cleaner and hotter than wood, stacks and stores like wood, is easy to light and has no petroleum additives.
