So. Much. Fun.

We're overflowing with free events, new products, & holiday cheer!

Dear Friends,

My mind is racing with so much news, ideas, and joy, so I apologize if this note is a little rambling. This morning I finally got to put my finger on what I love so much about Green Home Experts--every day, I work with companies who are passionate about green living. And I'm visited by hundreds of customers who are looking for green living solutions. I am blessed with the joy of connecting the supply with the demand, and I am thankful for all of you who support our business.

To feed our customers' hunger for information, we are hosting three events in the coming weeks. Please help us by spreading the word to your friends, neighbors and family.

If you haven't been in the shop lately, I encourage you to stop in. We're rolling out our holiday selection, re-merchandising the store, forming some green meet-up groups, and brainstorming for 2010. None of this would be possible without you, so from the bottom of my heart, thank you.

Yours truly,
Maria

Finding Green Careers will help you learn about jobs and careers in the new green economy. The goal of this program is to discuss the future of sustainability, show you some of the many related career options, and help you identify your role in this exciting field. We'll begin with a brief overview of sustainability, with special emphasis on its role in the business world today. We'll give an overview of the top projected careers in the green economy, and appropriate designations people can pursue on a career path. Transitioning existing jobs into green careers is also discussed. The program concludes with actionable steps you can take to become successful in a career related to sustainability.
