Cool Products to Warm Up Your Home

Dear Friends,

Welcome to Green Home Experts' October newsletter. Fall has wrapped itself around us, leaving me to scurry to get the garden cleaned up before frost hits. October is rich with tradition in my family. My husband's football season draws to a close, Dad and I still pick pumpkins together and my Mom makes sloppy joes for Halloween. All of these annual events are a rite of passage, as if winter couldn't come without them.

October also has its own set of rituals that help us prepare for winter. It's time to seal up your home, insulate as best as you can, have your furnace serviced, and do what you can to maximize energy efficiency this winter.

Before the days get shorter and the nights get longer, I hope you'll take time to enjoy your own traditions with friends and family, celebrating Mother Nature's colorful transitions.

All my best,
Maria Onesto Moran
President

Mark your calendars for Half Way to Earth Day!

The Village of Oak Park has officially proclaimed October 24th Half Way to Earth Day. Businesses on South Oak Park Avenue from Lexington to Van Buren will have sales and festivities from 12pm-3pm. Then, a march for clean air hosted by Oak Park 350 will conclude with a rally in the parking lot behind Fifth Third Bank at Harrison & Oak Park Avenue. Finally, celebrate the arrival of two I-Go cars with a ribbon cutting ceremony after the rally.

As part of the Half Way to Earth Day celebration, Green Home Experts will be selling locally made, 55-gallon rain barrels at the ridiculous price of $48 each! That's less than half our regular retail price! This sale is good for pre-orders only, so please be sure to place your order no later than Sunday, October 18th. Call or stop in GHE to place your order. Barrels must be picked up between 12pm-3pm on the day of the sale.
